Salt Lakers Celebrated the Fourth By Seeking Pleasure on The Outside.

DAY A QUIET ONE IN TOWN.

Accidents Were Few and Far Between-Street Cars Were Taxed To the Utmost.

The Fourth of July passed off this year in Salt Lake with a comparative quietness which fairly broke the record. There was, of course, lots of noise, but in comparison with the din of previous years when there were no restrictions on the ebullitions of local youth, the noise faded into insignific-There were five accidents from explosions, and two runaways. The casualty list is as follows:

Walter Griggs, 14 years of age, of 265 south Fifth West street, face cut from Joseph Wade, 13 years of age, of 112 morth Fifth West street, shot in right

Lawrence Fahy, aged 23, of 410 south second West street, fingers badly lacer-ated from explosion of can of powder. Mrs. Kenneth C. Woolley and moth-er, of 332 east Foudth South street, former burned on breast from explosion of giant fire cracker; latter, nervous

HOW ACCIDENTS HAPPENED.

In the Griggs case, the boy had touched off the fuse attached to the touched off the fuse attached to the can of powder, but a spark got into the can before he got away, and several stitches were required to sew up the gash cut in the boy's face. In the Fahy case, the explosion was premature, and the boy's hands were badly cut and his face was burned. The Mesdames Wolley were standing at Main and Second South streets when a Eureka miner named Lee Anderson threw a lighted cannon cracker in front of them. The explosion shocked both women into insensibility, and ruined the dress of one of them. Anderson was arrested. Physicians report a number of cases of burned fingers, but nothing serious; and in the two runaways no one was hurt, though the vehicles were badly demoralized.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.

The fire department had but two calls, but they were of no special con-sequence. One was the explosion of a fireworks' stand on cust Second South, and the other was a grass fire in the rear of 237 south Eleventh East in the rear of 237 south Eleventh East street. A fire, started by fireworks, it is supposed, burned over 150 acres of land at Twelfth South and Thirteenth East streets, doing $2,500 damage, and an effort is being made to locate the responsible parties. It is believed that the precautions taken by Chief Hywater of the fire department in clearing out alleys before the Fourth, prevented not a few incipient conflagrations.

RESORTS CROWDED.

During the morning the town was filled with people, the popping of the cracker was a constant quantity, and the incoming trains brought many rural emed to realize that there was nothing going on in town, and there was a frantic desire to flothe resorts. So the trains and tarrest cars to these places were packfull of pleasure seekers all the after full of pleasure seekers all the afternoon and evening. From $,000 to 10,000 people went to Lagoon, and packed the place so full that navigation was attended with difficulties. The employes of the road and the resort had a strenuous time of it in caring for the throng.
The attendance at the Salt Palace was another record breaker, owing to free admission and free fireworks to chidren. The attendance during the afternoon and evening, was estimated at noon and evening, was estimated at 6,000. Prizes were awarded for various contests. The races at Agricultural park also drew thousands of people who enjoyed the scene, and at Liberty park there was also a record breaking crowd a large part of which remained to enjoy the fireworks in the evening. Pleincing was the order of the day, and the absence of the fire cracker was noticed with gratification, Calder's park was profusely decorated with flags and bunting, and while the afternoon crowd bunting, and while the afternoon crowd was not very large, the attendance increased during the evening. Great crowds went out to Saltair where it is estimated that 10,000 people inhaled the inland sea breezes. A few people went up to Fort Douglas, but nothing was foing up there beyond the national salute of 45 guns at noon, and retreat in the early evening.

STREET CARS TAXED.

Citizens who remained in town sent Citizens who remained in town sent up rockets during the evening, and otherwise manifested their particula fervor. The street car service was "rushed to death," but responded with plenty of cars and pienty of service, and did so well, that the morning papers which seem to take a perennial delight in "jumping on" the management on every occasion and no occasion, had no complaint to make. It was the remark this morning, that the streets in the business section of the streets in the business section of the city looked much cleaner than is usual on the morning of the 5th of July, and it was also remarked that the proclama-tion of the mayor was quite effective in shutting off those usual incidents which so often result in casualty and disorder.

Provo Capitalist Hires a Special Train To Visit Sick Engineer.

Because one of his "boys" was dying back at Niagara Falls, L. L. Nunn, the Provo capitalist and Telluride Power plant man, at the cost of $500 hired a special train at Ogden Monday in an effort to overtake a missed Union Pacific train. Owing to some delay and a faulty engine the race was abandoned at Green River, Wyo., and Mr. Nunn goes east on the regular train yestergoes east on the regular train yesterday afternoon.

To quote one of the engineers at the power plant in Provo canyon this morning, Mr. Nunn has possibly the largest "family" in the world, and all boys at that. For several years he has been picking up bright young fellows at different points throughout the country and educating them at his own expense. These young men he calls his boys. Word reached him yesterday that Mr. F. C. Hutton, one of his boys, who has made a splendid record in the electrical engineering world, was dying at Niagara, where he had been recently vansferred from Provo canyon. Mr. unn lost no time in starting out on a long journey to the bedside of the k man. "Would Mr. Nunn do that any of his boys?" was asked the en-

It will be remembered that the senator recently received an urgent invitation to speak there on independence day and that a few bigots of the Dubois stripa entered their "solemn protest" against his appearance under such distinguishing cfreumstances. But the people knew who they wanted and had who they wanted. According to all reports they came from far and hear and gave attentive ear to all he suid.

Senator Smoot is expected home from Idaho this ovening.

The report of County Atty, Christens sen for the first six months of his administration has been filed with the county commissioners and shows a large increase in the legal business of the county and also in the revenues of the office. "Another fact that contributes to the work of this office is the juvenile court. The Legislature made the court and it has entailed upon me a great deal of work. This a pleasant labor, too, because the institution is in line with the advanced thought of the age, is doing and will continue to do, a great service to the state. When the vacation is over and the juvenile work in the county, outside of the city, is attended, as it should and will be, I will probably be compelled to have one main give his exclusive attention to this department.
